CALLING ALL LAW STUDENTS . . .

are you looking for . . . a traineeship?

holiday/part-time term work?

free places at law courses?

Who? . . .

www.legalpeople.info is an electronic newspaper featuring employment adverts for the legal profession, which you can receive FOR FREE. Employers advertise with us and, every week, we email the current edition to firms around Scotland.

What? . . .

We advertise positions for solicitors, associates, partners, para-legals, secretaries, cashiers, locums etc. After consultation with The Law Society, we have now extended the scope of www.legalpeople.info to include prospective traineeships and student holiday placements.

Why? . . .

The benefits for both Employers and Law students of using www.legalpeople.info as a central point of contact are plain:-

- Everyone will save time and money - no need for hundreds of students to produce hundreds of circular letters and for hundreds of solicitors to respond to them.
- For firms that have projects that need doing, but no-one ever has time to do it, a Law Student on holiday placement could be the answer.
- If a firm offers a holiday placement and it works for both employer and student, it might lead to a traineeship.
- Applying directly to employers saves them £'000s in agency fees. To reflect this saving, some employers offer a signing-on bonus.
